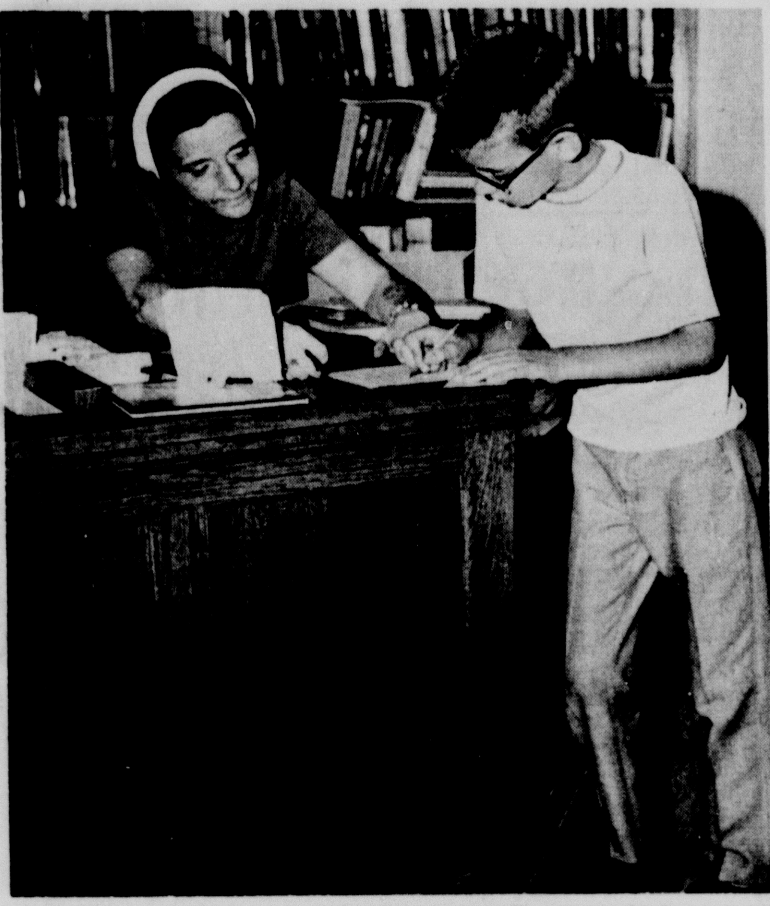
City-County Eying Problems



Pete Brown, 10, signs up for the Texas Reading Club summer program with a little assistance from Mrs. Ralph Huntington at the Canyon City Library. Pete is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Weyman E. Brown and says he will probably just read 15 books this summer "cause he is in two liberry clubs, one at the church and this liberry."

Governing Groups Talk Jail Facilities, Radio

BY TROY MARTIN

Randall County commissioners and the Canyon city commission Monday in a joint meeting agreed to work out a system for sharing costs of jail and communications facilities.

City commissioners will discuss the matter a week from tonight at a regular meeting.

There was a discrepancy between the records kept on prisoner days by the county sheriff's department and the city police department. County figures show city prisoners with 482 prisoner days while the city shows only 252 prisoner days for city inmates.

Sheriff L.S. "Slim" Johnston said his figures show days spent in jail by prisoners arrested by city officers. The city contends that prisoners handled by courts other than the municipal court should not have their jail time counted as city prisoner days.

Mayor J. Manly Bryan said only jail time for prisoners under jurisdiction of municipal court should be counted. Mayor Bryan says prisoners handled by the municipal court last year spent only 86 prisoner days in county jail.

He said this is only 2.7 per cent of the total of 3,212 prisoner days spent by all prisoners in county jail. County figures show that cost of operating the jail to have been $17,400 and the mayor contends that the city's pro-rata share would be $469.80

According to the sheriff's figures city prisoners prisoner days represents 15 per cent of the total and the city's pro-rata share of the cost would be $2,610.

Sheriff Johnson said the figure of 482 prisoner day days included time served

Want It Or Not, Warehouse Coming

Want it or not---Randall County is going to get a surplus foods warehouse by the end of this month.

This is what a three-man team of welfare workers told Randall County Commissioners Court Monday.

The court was also told that RandallCounty cannot go partners with Potter County in operating a surplus commodity warehouse. Members of the team state vaguely that Randall must partnership with Swisher, Briscoe and possibly Armstrong Counties.

This in spite of the fact that most of the people who will be receiving the commodities live in Amarillo, not much more than a mile from the Potter County warehouse already in operation.

The team visiting the court Monday was made up of James Cason, Amarillo, state department of public welfare; Bob Glosson, Austin, state department of public welfare; and Ralph W. Merrill, US Department of Agriculture Food and Nutrition Service, Dallas.

On a previous occasion the group had been told that Randall County is not willing to cooperate in a surplus warehouse but would cooperate with Potter County.

Monday Glosson called his headquarters in Austin to see whether rules could be relaxed and Randall County allowed to go partnership in a warehouse with Potter.

Glosson returned to the commissioners court room and quoted his superior, whom he identified as William Hearndon, director of the Texas Department of Welfare Commodity Distribution as saying such an arrangement would not be permitted.

The three were told that the county would not cooperate.

Glosson said that his department must open a surplus commodity warehouse in Randall County by June 30 or be in violation of a court order handed down by a Judge Taylor in Dallas.

He said the warehouse would be opened whether Randall County cooperates or not.

County Judge Carroll Brown said County parti-

Salvage crews have begun wrecking the old Canyon Junior High School building which was erected in 1923. Shown here on the rubble-strewn steps of the old building are Rick Watson, San Antonio, a West Texas State University student, and Larry Prichard, Canyon. A modern junior high school building will be opened for Canyon next fall on the same campus.

Summer Readers Join Club

Registration for the Texas Reading Club 1970 opened Monday at Canyon City Library and will continue this week according to Mrs. Chester Pierle.

Youngsters who participate in the program and read as many as 12 books between now and July 31 will be eligible to receive a Texas Reading Club certificate. All registrants will be honored with an end of summer party.

The library is open each day from 2-5:30 p.m.

Defendant Late, Bond Forfeited

A Vega man alleged to have made it to three weddings failed to show up on time for his bigamy trial in 47th District Court Monday.

Marvin Paul "Wheels" Metcalf, 38 years old, was ordered jailed and his $1,000 bond forfeited at 10:30 o'clock Monday morning by Judge E.E. "Gene" Jordan an hour and a half after the appointed time for his trial to begin.

Judge Jordan instructed Bailiff Recil Johnson to cry the defendant's name four times at the court house door. Then the magistrate released the jury panel and forfeited Metcalf's bond.

Metcalf finally showed up in the deserted court room at 11 o'clock. Shortly after his arrival he was taken into custody by sheriff's deputies and placed in Randall County jail.

He was released at 5 o'clock the same afternoon after posting bond of $10,000.

Randall County Criminal District Attorney George Dowlen said Metcalf specifically is charged with having married Eula Alene Brock Jan. 29, 1969 in Amarillo while still married to Lois Marie Moore Metcalf whom he is alleged to have married Dec. 15, 1958.

The district attorney's office said Metcalf probably will not be tried now until October unless the case is transferred from 47th District Court to Judge Don Dean's 181st District Court.

The complaining witness brought a civil suit against Metcalf earlier this year for $78,000 claiming she was embarrassed, shamed and

To Meet Abraham

Sherman Wins

Amarillo attorney Max Sherman became the Democratic candidate for Sen. Grady Hazlewood's seat in the Texas Senate by defeating Jack Hazlewood in the second primary.

Sherman now faces Republican Malouf "Oofie" Abraham of Canadian in the race for the 31st Senatorial District seat in November.

Sherman polled 12,324 votes in the 20 county race to 9,024 for Hazlewood. In Randall County, Sherman led Hazlewood 1,623 to 782, carrying three of four boxes.

According to Randall County Clerk LeRoy Hutton, Sherman collected a total of 210 to Hazlewood's 161 in combined Precincts 1-7 voting at the American Legion Hall in Canyon. In Precincts 8-14, voting at South Lawn School, Hazlewood garnered his only box with a count of 271-243. In combined precincts 15-18 at Coronado School, Sherman's vote tallied 637 to 186 for Hazlewood.

In voting at Ridgecrest School, Precincts 19-21, Sherman led 533 to 164.

Absentee ballots gave Sherman a 105-55 majority.

Total vote in Randall county, 2,583 ballots cast, represents approximately 11 percent of the 21,431 registered voters in the County.

Randall County Democratic Chairman Marion Bruce, commenting on the Sherman win, stated, "Max is a good man. My guess is that his people will continue to work for him. He has a good thing going his way and he should follow up while it is to his advantage."

Bruce continued, "The Democratic Party is in the best shape it has been in in quite a while."

In speculating on a Democratic win in November, he said, "We don't have any

Officials Visit Bubble Top

A group of West Texas State University officials flew to Pocatello, Idaho, last week for a look at a bubble top similar to the one contemplated for Buffalo Stadium.

Virgil Henson, WTSU financial vice president, told Canyon Lions Club Wednesday the top for the stadium here along with expansion to 40,000 seats and Astroturf would cost in the neighborhood of $4½ million.

He said the only way such a facility could be built would be through donations.

Making the trip to Pocatello were Cloyce Box, chairman of the WTSU board; President James P. Cornette; Athletic Director Joe Kerbel; Kerbel's assistant, Frank Kimbrough; and Henson.

"We just went up there to look," said Henson. He also said such a bubble top is being studied for Buffalo Bowl but that money for the project is not yet in sight.

Henson stated that if the top were constructed then basketball games could be played at the stadium on moveable courts.

In response to questioning Henson told the group he sees no way in the foreseeable future of building a gymnasium on the WTSU campus and that for the present basketball games must be played either in the present limited facility or in the coliseum at Amarillo.

"There is no way we could build it and pay for it," declared Henson. He noted

Race Track Ceremonies Saturday

Groundbreaking ceremonies for Panhandle Downs will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the site one-half mile west of Umbarger.

Handling groundbreaking honors will be Mrs. Lester Urschell of Canadian.

Participating in the ceremonies will be members of the board of Panhandle Downs, Inc. and representatives of the Chambers of Commerce in Canyon, Amarillo and Hereford.

The public is invited to attend.

Moisture General Over Area

Much needed moisture fell Sunday in Randall County with a county-wide average of 1.91 inches.

Greatest amount was recorded in the vicinity of the Bushland Co-op northwest of Canyon by F. L. Brewer who reported a reading of 2.95 inches.

Brewer said, "It will help ripen the wheat a little quicker and by the time it is ready to cut, the ground will be dry." If we had been ready to cut it would have delayed us four or five days."

At the Joe Turpin place northeast of Canyon, 1.50 inches of rainfall was recorded.

According to Mrs. Turpin, little rain was received at another of their places north of Canyon and they began combining wheat Wednes-

Preacher Jailed, News Headline In New York

Canyon has made front page headlines in The New York Times only once and that was when a visiting evangelist was tossed in jail here, according to Mrs. Clyde Warwick, Randall county historian whose husband published The Randall County News at the time.

The story on the evangelist's arrest also made the front page of the local paper Jan. 20, 1921.

Here's how the story was carried in that issue:

"Dr. M. Lee Starke of New York City, evangelist who is holding a series of meetings at the local Methodist Church, spent last night in the Randall County jail under a writ of committment issued out of the Justice Court by Arnott Moreland, Justice of the Peace. The steps leading up to Dr. Starke's confinement in the jail are as follows:

"Sunday morning Dr. Starke charged in the pulpit that he had seen crap games going on in Canyon that morning.

"Monday morning a court of inquiry was called by the justice of the peace, but Dr. Starke was out of town and the subpoena for him to appear was not served. No action was taken Tuesday.

"Wednesday morning the subpoena was served on Dr. Starke and he refused to go into court. The justice then issued a write of attachment to the sheriff of Randall County, W.C. Black, which writ was served and Dr. Starke brought into court.

"Questions were asked Mr. Starke regarding the games he had seen in Canyon Sunday morning. According to the reports given out by the officers, Dr. Starke refused to give the information sought, and the wit-

Happy In BlueRibbon Contention

Happy may become a Blue Ribbon City according to West Texas Chamber of Commerce standards if the community can earn enough points in three categories.

Happy has already acquired enough points in three other categories, beautification, parks and recreation and local government.

The categories to be obtained include the tourism category, the industrial category and the education category. A historical marker will give the town the tourism category. The industrial category can be obtained by up-dating city brochures and the education

FROM THE CANYON RIM

I heard the ultimate in boondogling this week from a state-federal welfare team appearing before commissioners court.

The team intends to open a surplus commodity warehouse in Canyon whether Randall County wants it or not. Commissioners court says it doesn't want the warehouse for various reasons.

County Judge Carroll Brown says it will cost the county $1,000 a month and the county can take care of its indigent cheaper.

But the worst part is that the state won't allow Randall and Potter Counties to share a commodity warehouse because Potter County is already operating one. This in spite of the fact that most of the pecple eligible to receive commodities live within a mile of the Potter County warehouse.

What the state department of welfare seems to be interested in is more warehouses, more employes and a greater empire for the bureaucrats. The people who will suffer from this inefficiency is of course, the needy and the taxpayer.

At long last the county and the city have sat down together to thrash out some of their mutual problems and I think it can be done at a savings to the county and city taxpayer.

The county has to have a jail and a communications system even if the city of Canyon duplicates them. For both the city and county to have these facilities would be ridiculous.

If you pro rate the cost of these between the county and the city, the city's share would be somewhere around $10,000.

Now the city has to have a fire department regardless of what the county does in this area. A city official told commissioners court this week that the computed cost per fire call answered by the Canyon Fire Department last year was about $260.

The city answered 69 rural fire calls and at that figure might have sent the county a bill for $17,940. Amarillo City Manager John Stiff set the cost for answering a rural call at $585 per fire. This would have brought the bill to more than $40,000.

These governing agencies could keep presenting each other bills and arguing to the point of becoming ridiculous.

Thank goodness they are talking to each other in a sensible manner and no doubt will arrive at some sensible solutions.

We are going to see more and more necessity for cooperation among the area's governing bodies as Potter-Randall develops into an urban community.

The more common ground we can find now the easier solutions will be in the future.

West Texas State University is building two more large dormitories. The need is acute for all the dormitories that can be built on campus.

So far the community has not met the housing needs of WTSU students. If these needs had been met we would not find a third of the university students commuting.

The new activities center, plus many other weekend attractions tend to keep students on the campus over weekends, at least those who have a place to live in Canyon.

The more students we can keep on campus, the better it will be for university school spirit and Canyon business.

I ran some statistics on the recent US Senate race in The Sunday News.

It was not, as the senior senator claims, turncoat Republicans who crossed party lines in the primary and defeated him. It was the little people, the people in the hinterlands, who threw Ralph Yarborough out of office.

Election statistics show that there were 93 small (population wise) counties in the state casting less than 2,000 votes each. Bentsen carried 77 of these allowing Yarborough only 16.

These are the rural people of this state--not the big city Republicans as the disgruntled loser would have you believe.

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew is winning out over his critics who include most radicals, national television network commentators and variety shows a la Johnny Carson and Merv Griffin.

These variety shows are loaded with ultra liberal critics of the government in general and the vice president in particular.

The occasional conservative allowed on one of these shows is brought in alone to face a battery of liberals who proceed to shout him down when he tries to speak. So-called proponents of free speech (for themselves) substitute noise for logic.

I saw Al Capp get just such treatment on the Merv Griffin show a few nights ago.

In spite of this, the vice president has been swamped with requests by legislators running for re-election to have their pictures taken with him for campaign purposes.

Our World

BY ANN BROWN

The current issue in American politics is not Democrats vs. Republicans, but liberals vs. conservatives. The definitions of liberal and conservative, however, depends entirely on the person doing the defining.

Extremists among both groups are largely responsible for the polarization of America. Each accuses the other of radicalism, and both accusations are true. The radicals among both liberals and conservatives have given the designations popular connotations quite different from Webster's definitions.

Conservatives according to extreme liberals are dull, boring, non progressive adults with an ordered way of life, who can see things only one way, and are totally intolerant of change.

Liberals according to radical conservatives are iconoclastic, destructive, licentious libertines whose policies are destroying America.

The majority of Americans probably prefer to be classified somewhere between the two warring factions. The polarization, however, is forcing an increasing number of Americans to choose between the two.

Senator Margaret Chase Smith from Maine has been quoted as saying that Americans forced to make a choice between anarchy and repression will reluctantly choose repression. Sen. Smith's statement is apparently substantiated by the latest Gallup Poll, which shows the conservative label has reached a high level of popularity among adults than at any time during the last forty years.

Conservatives contend liberals are destructive, and liberals insist conservatives are opposed to progress. American voters should acquaint themselves with the facts to both charges and vote accordingly.

Which group can be charged with riots, and destruction and the degrading of our colleges and universities?

Which group has been most instrumental in shackling our police force, corrupting our courts, and making it profitable for the criminal element to prey on society?

Which group advocates drug abuse, approves pornography, and promotes sexual promiscuity and perversion?

Are these things destructive or conducive to progress?

Which group has contributed most to the advances of science, and the expansion of agriculture, industry, and business that provides food, necessities, and jobs for Americans? Is this destruction or progress?

The liberals contend there are no absolute standards of right and wrong, that the particular situation is the determining factor, and that every man should be free to follow the dictates of his own conscience.

The conservatives insist that man needs definite standards of conduct, and that the standards should be determined by the laws of God and Man--not by the individual conscience.

Which philosophy is exemplified in nature? Do the sun, moon and seasons follow certain rules? Is there a pre-determined gestation period for the creation of man and beast? Do the planets circle the sun in consistent fashion?

What are cancer cells? Are they not body cells that grow out of order? The unruly cells displace the orderly ones.

The choice lies between destroying the disorderly cells or allowing them to destroy the entire body. Which choice is the progressive one?

All the constructive forces i.. nature follow rigid rules of order. Lack of order is chaos. Can man survive in chaos? Is order essential to progress?

American survival may very well depend on how realistically voters define their terms.

Bill Reynolds And Mrs. Brasher Back From Nuclear Science Meet

Speeches by Atomic Energy Commission officials, university professors and corporation heads and tours through the research facilities at the University of Texas highlighted the tenth annual Texas Nuclear Science Symposium at the University.

Attending from Canyon were Bill Reynolds, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Reynolds, 1312 3 Ave., and Mrs. Treasure Brasher, physics teacher at Canyon High School.

The conference was sponsored by the University of Texas and the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation. Southwestern Public Service, a member of the Foundation, sponsored Mrs. Brasher and Reynolds.

"The University of Texas has one of the largest facilities in the world for nuclear and plasma research," said Mrs. Brasher. "Every afternoon we got to tour the facilities."

The mornings were spent in sessions with speakers from universities and corporations, she said. "We learned much about peaceful applications of nuclear physics research and the medical and industrial applications of radioactivity. We learned about the industrial applications of nuclear physics research and the medical and industrial applications of radioactivity. We learned about the industrial research in nuclear fission and current research in nuclear fusion and plasma physics.

About 550 students from the state attended the symposium, Mrs. Brasher said. The group stayed at the Jester Residence Complex on the UT campus.

Reynolds was selected to attend the symposium by a faculty committee at CHS. He was one of five outstanding physics students who were being considered, Mrs. Brasher said.

"Bill had the highest average of any junior physics student and the selection is made from those students. He had an over-all average of 99 in physics this year," she added.

Workshop In Speech Scheduled

Registration for a high school speech workshop, which will be June 21 through July 3, is this week at West Texas State University.

The workshop for high school students will be under the direction of WTSU's speech department staff.

Daily sessions are slated from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m., Monday through Saturday.

An emphasis will be on debate during the workshop, but there will be sessions on persuasive and extemporaneous speaking. The debate sessions will stress next year's Texas University Interscholastic League topic, "The Federal Government Should Establish, Administer and Finance a Program to Control Air and Water Pollution in the United States."

Students may commute to the sessions, live with relatives or live on campus. Fee for living on campus, including room, board and workshop materials, is $110. The cost for the workshop only, including materials, is $40.

The speech department has hosted several such workshops in the past, but this is the first one in a number of years.

Students interested in attending the workshop should contact the speech department at West Texas State University.

AM or FM, AC or DC...THE RM2 IS FOR YOU

When design engineers at Petersen Radio drew plans for the RM2, they just wanted to build a good quality monitor receiver for a reasonable price.

Today, many people say the RM2 is the standard of the industry.

The RM2 is a completely self-contained monitor receiver that will operate on either 115 volts AC or, with optional power cord, 12 volts DC. The RM2-1 will receive any frequency of your choice, either AM or FM, between 2 MHZ and 200 MHZ. The RM2-4 will receive any four channels in that range, and you may choose any combination of AM and FM channels.

The wide choice is made possible by Petersen Radio's plug-in cards, which consist of a crystal oscillator, mixer and RF section. You can change any channel merely by taking out one card and plugging in another. The RM2-4, provides instant four-channel selection with a selector switch.

RM2-1. Single-frequency Monitor Receiver with one plug-in card and built-in speaker $64.95

RM2-4. Four-frequency Monitor Receiver with one plug-in card and built-in speaker $74.95

Bauer Reverts To Native German To Communicate With Visiting Relatives

Communication means translation: the Bauers and the Scholzes.

BY DIANNE BROADDUS

Although Umbarger was settled as a German community, very few of the residents speak German very often.

But sometimes they have to, as Bill Bauer can attest.

Bauer's nephew and his wife, Reinhart and Maria Scholz, came to America with the Loftleider Island tour from Germany. Leaving the tour in New York, they came to Amarillo where the Bauers met them and took them to Umbarger.

The Scholzes are from Bielefeld, West Germany, and speak not a word of English.

Bauer came from Germany 42 years ago and couldn't speak a word of English when he arrived. But he was afraid that he had learned the language too well and wouldn't be able to remember enough German to communicate with the Scholzes when they arrived.

"He's doing just fine, though," laughed Mrs. Bauer, who doesn't understand a word of German.

The Scholzes and Mrs. Bauer communicate through Bauer who remembers enough of both languages to keep the conversation rolling, no matter what problems he had before.

"I think my wife thinks I talk too long in German sometimes," Bauer joked. "She tells me to stop--she wants to know what we're talking about."

The Scholzes will be in Umbarger for another week before they travel to Washington D.C., and then to New York to meet their tour.

"So far they've seen more of the country than I have and I have been here 42 years," Bauer said.

"They've been to Niagara Falls and the Grand Canyon and the Rocky Mountains. Their only complaint is that they didn't get to stay long enough in the Rockies to really see them," he said.

"They are really enjoying seeing America because it is so big. Germany is so small that there just isn't the variety in the things to see there," he added.

Reinhart and Maria haven't had too much trouble with the language barrier, Bauer said.

"They've always been able to find someone who spoke a little German to help them out when they needed it," he said.

The Scholzes have found the climate here much different from the climate in their country. "It's not so warm and it's damper there," they said in their native language. "Also, there is not as much wind."

"They're having a real good time in America," Bauer said. "But they want one thing--a German newspaper to find out what's going on."

Perhaps that just goes to prove the saying that everything loses something in the translation.

Former Canyon Resident Promoted At Sandia Base

Rex Taylor, formerly of Canyon, was promoted to First Lieutenant in the U.S. Army recently.

Stationed at Sandia Base in Albuquerque, N.M., he is assistant custodian at the Sandia Base Central Post Fund.

A native of Millville, New Brunswick, Canada, Lt. Taylor is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Edmond Taylor, Millville, and a 1960 graduate of Southampton High School. He attended Temple Junior College and earned his Master's degree in business administration at West Texas State University, where he was commissioned in May, 1967. He has been in the Army eight years.

Lt. Taylor is married to the former Linda Marie Salmon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Salmon, 3201 Linda Lane.

The Taylors reside on Sandia Base and have a three-month old son, Rex Jr.

Army 1 LT. Rex E. Taylor is congratulated on his promotion to his present rank by Col. Stanley R. Matthews, commanding officer of Sandia Base, a joint service installation. Mrs. Taylor looks on.

2,956 Begin At WT

Although registration figures are not yet final or official, a total of 2, 956 students have started registration at WTSU, according to Dr. Donald Cates, registrar.

"We don't know yet how many will drop out before the final figures are completed and we make the official report to the state," Cates said.

Cates said that 2,919 students started through registration last year, but that 71 dropped out before the figures were completed.

"We haven't broken the figures down into classification yet, so we don't know how many freshmen or sophomores or anything we have yet," he said.

The final registration report is to be sent to the state Monday, he said. "We'll know then all the exact figures," he added.

Kathy Gist, Sharon Hinders Will Visit Denmark, Italy

BY MARY ANN WALTER

They began the conversation in a very business-like manner but as the talk progressed eyes began to shine and enthusiasm took over.

Kathy Gist and Sharon Hinders are packing their suitcases for one of the most exciting trips young women can participate in....an exchange program in foreign countries under the sponsorship of the 4-H organization.

The girls depart from Amarillo Air Terminal on June 21 for Washington, D.C. for a four-day tour of the nation's capitol and orientation for this summer adventure.

It is here that they will be told which cities they will be staying in and with which family. Sharon will be living in Denmark and Kathy in Italy, but as yet neither have been given any further details.

As a part of a 4-H Team Caravan they will go by bus from Washington to New York City and will fly to their respective countries from this point on June 24.

Each girl has written to previous caravan members for tips on what to take and to ask questions about customs and people.

Kathy said, "I wrote to three people and they all answered right off. They all really like it."

"One girl who had lived in Italy said they worked in the sugar beet fields. You do whatever the family you live with does. Another girl said she went to Rome and visited a cathedral. She was wearing a mini-skirt and they kicked her out. The dresses they wear are kinda long..."

"She also said that the Italians eat all the time so bring clothes that are too big because you will fill them out. Some of the people tried to lose weight before they left because they knew they would get so fat."

Sharon's contacts have all told her to "travel light. You carry your own suitcases everywhere and they get pretty heavy."

"The closest person that went to Denmark was Sherry Arnold from Arkansas," Sharon noted. "So it has been hard to find someone who speaks Danish.

Learning the language is the one problem that both girls seem to be worried about. Sharon has been unable to find anyone in this area who speaks Danish and has had to resort to learning German in hopes that will help her over the communications barrier. She is studying with Mrs. Alvin Kluman in preparation for the trip, but when asked how she is progressing she said, "slow, slow."

Kathy has been more fortunate in finding a tutor. For the language she will need. She is taking lessons in Italian from Mrs. Kelli McBride, a native of Italy, who works at the WTSU library, and from Mrs. McBride's sister, Ines Kataldi.

Kathy and Sharon are the only two Texans who will be participating in this summer exchange program. Their parents had heard about the program, discussed it with the girls and in December, sent in a request asking to go. Confirmation was received in February.

Kathy said, "I heard about the program about five years ago, but I thought oh well, I'll never get to go."

Now they are almost on their way.

Kathy, a senior at Canyon High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R.G. Gist, Jr. Sharon, who will be a junior at CHS this fall, is the daughter of the Louis Hinders.

The girls will meet in the Netherlands on August 19 for the return trip to the United States.

Denmark and Italy are a long way from Canyon, Texas. Kathy Gist and Sharon Hinders are busy learning customs and language of the countries where they will be spending the summer on a 4-H sponsored exchange program.

Fund To Honor Resident's Niece

An annual scholarship fund has been set up in memory of the niece of a Canyon resident, Mrs. Robert Hernandez, 308 4th Ave.

Mrs. Hernandez's niece, Sandy Arellano, was killed Memorial Day in a motorcycle accident near Plattsmouth, Neb.

Student Council officers at Bryan High School in Omaha voted to establish the scholarship and agreed to assume the responsibility each year for raising the scholarship money. Miss Arellano had been a member of the Student Council.

Miss Arellano was to have graduated June 2, but her funeral services were held on that day.

Mr. and Mrs. Hernandez attended the services.

Director Finds Dorm Life Rewarding And Fulfilling

BY DIANNE BROADDUS

Being a mother to 200 girls isn't nearly so hectic as it sounds and "It is the most rewarding, fulfilling thing for me in the world," says Mrs. Ferne Patching, residence hall director at Hudspeth Hall.

"Young people are just so wonderful," she said. "They accept responsibility so well and it's a joy to have them around. I grow with them every day."

Young people's accepting responsibility is the basis of the way Hudspeth Hall is run, according to Mrs. Patching.

"We started a pilot program about three and a half years ago with the help of Miss Ruth Cross, who was dean of women at the time. Hudspeth has only one director now and the girls themselves have the responsibility of running the hall. We have office girls who are residents in the hall. When I'm not here I know I can depend on them to get the job done," she said.

All women's dorms but one have since adopted the system.

"During the winter I take every other weekend off. On my weekend off the girls are here by themselves. I know that when I come back things will be just as I left them. The office girls and the other girls are just so wonderful about accepting responsibility," she added.

During the summer, there are two directors in Hudspeth. Mrs. Myrtle Prigmore, director of Cousins Hall, is working with Mrs. Patching this summer.

Mrs. Patching believes in "talking things out" with the girls in the dorm.

"Quite a few girls come down and talk to me about their problems," she said. "The girls do most of the talking and I listen. Just about any problem can be worked out that way.

"I don't believe in making snap decisions on anything. I feel that everything needs to be weighed because we need to see both sides to every story. That's why discipline has never been a problem. We just talk things out. Very seldom do I ever campus any of the girls," she added.

Mrs. Patching finds something funny in her job every day.

"Once around Homecoming two girls checked out to work on a float. They knew that they would be quite late coming in so we made arrangements for them to ring the doorbell and I would let them in. Well, they didn't come back until 4 a.m. They didn't want to wake me because we were going to have to get up real early the next morning to set up Homecoming decorations in front of the dorm. So they decided they would crawl through a window," she said.

"Well, one girl was quite thin, and she made it through the window without any trouble. The other girl was rather large and she just couldn't make it through. The smaller girl crawled back through the window and tried to push the other one through. That still didn't work," she laughed.

"They finally had to ring the doorbell to get me to let them in," she said.

Mrs. Patching first came to the WTSU campus six years ago.

"I was an assistant director at McCaslin Hall for one year. Then I was supposed to move right into Hudspeth as director. But Shirley Hall was new that year and it had to be opened. Neither Shirley nor Brown Hall was filled, but Hudspeth was. Anyway, we moved all the girls from Hudspeth into Brown and Shirley and closed Hudspeth for one year. The dorm director at Cousins Hall was ill, so I moved in as director there. I've been at Hudspeth ever since."

"It's ironic that there was so much room then, but we are crying for room for girls now," she said.

Mrs. Patching lived on a ranch-farm near Happy before she came to WTSU. Her husband died about eight years ago.

She enjoys bowling and belongs to three Canyon leagues and one Amarillo league.

She is a member of the Coffee Cup League, Starlight Mixed League and the Twilight League in Canyon and is president of the Educated Eight League at the Western Bowl in Amarillo.

Her other hobbies include watching horse racing. "I've really become an enthusiast," she said.

She likes to sew when she can find time and she loves to knit. "I sit here in the office when I'm working and knit. When I'm just down here to buzz the girls for their boyfriends or when I'm just talking to someone down here, I'm usually knitting," she said.

"Someone asked me once if it was hard keeping up with all these girls," she said. "I told her that that was no problem at all. I keep them busy keeping up with me."

Mrs. Ferne Patching chats with Mrs. Alice Barrow, a former resident of Hudspeth Hall.

Church School Begins Monday

Vacation Church School will begin Monday morning at three Canyon churches, with five churches participating.

The ecumenical church school includes participants from First Christian Church, Episcopal University Center, First United Methodist Church, First Presbyterian Church and St. Ann's Catholic Church.

Registration begins Monday at 9 a.m. The sessions will be Monday through Friday for two weeks from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. each morning.

Fifth and sixth grade classes will meet at the Presbyterian Church. The fourth grade class will meet at the First Christian Church. All others will meet at the First United Methodist Church.

Children are asked to wear school or play clothes and to bring a large can of juice and two dozen cookies to help the kitchen committee with refreshments.

Coordinators for the church school include Mrs. John O'Connor, Mrs. John Hoyle, Mrs. Ralph Cole, Mrs. William Durden and Mrs. Fred Begert.

Post Office Service Window Slated To Close Saturdays

The Canyon Post Office service window will no longer be open for customer services on Saturdays, according to an announcement by Postmaster Lee Roy Moreland.

Beginning Friday, the service window will remain open until 5:45 p.m. to accomodate those patrons who cannot be in town by 5 p.m. on Fridays and who usually need mailing services on Saturday morning, he said.

The stamp machine in the lobby of the Post Office dispenses five-and six-cent stamps, he said. All mail will continue to be dispatched on the normal Saturday schedule.

Only incoming air mail, special delivery and daily newspapers will, be handled in the main office on Sunday morning. Dispatches will continue to be made on the usual Sunday schedule.

Moreland also announced that it is essential that the air mail rate of postage be used now for the fastest transportation of mail. Surface air-lift of ordinary mail is no longer available due to volume, cost and available air space, he said.

He also said that it is essential that the public use "Canyon, Texas, 79015" on all mail intended for local delivery. "Some of our mail is worked in the Sectional Center office in Amarillo. Thus a letter addressed 'City' would not get back to Canyon for delivery," he explained.

"These changes in operating standards will enable the local office to help effect national economies in the expenditure of the people's tax money and will help to provide service equal to that being given nationwide," he said.

Summer School Opens; Two Courses Taught

Summer school classes for elementary students began Monday morning at Rex Reeves Elementary School for the first time since the school has been open.

Two classes are being taught, according to Oscar Hinger, principal.

A course in reading and one in mathematics are being taught during the summer and different approaches are being used to teach the courses than are used during the regular school year.

Neither course has a regular text book and both courses utilize teaching equipment and team teaching, he said.

Herman Demus, math teacher at Canyon Junior High, is in charge of the math program. "We are using flash cards, films, a record player and a tape recorder in the course. The program should offer the students the change of pace they need to learn the math facts," he said.

The reading course will involve working with Readers' Digest, Dolch magazines, Carousel and Scott-Foresman reading materials. Students will use the tape recorder, the record player, the controlled reader and individual head phones in this course.

Teachers of the reading course are Mrs. Lee Reeves and Mrs. Inell Zevely.

All three teachers, along with Mrs. Ocoee Holt, will be working together in the classroom to provide team teaching, according to Hinger.

Mrs. Reeves is in charge of the 8:30 a.m. reading class and Mrs. Zevely has the 10:30 a.m. reading class, but both teachers are working together, he explained.

Demus is in charge of both the 8:30 a.m. and the 10;30 a.m. math classes, but Mrs. Reeves, Mrs. Zevely and Mrs. Holt will be working with him.

The summer school program, which lasts six weeks, costs $25 per course.

"We probably won't break even money-wise," said Hinger. "But that's not the important thing. We want to help these children."

If the program proves successful it may be expanded to include other courses in the future, he said.

"If we are successful, we will want to expand. If not, we don't want to," he said.

Summer Homemaking Course Taught At Canyon High School

A relaxed atmosphere characterizes the annual summer homemaking course being taught at Canyon High School which began Tuesday morning.

Thirteen girls are enrolled for the course for which they will receive one-half credit towards graduation. Mrs. Mary Jo Hales is teaching the course.

The students are allowed to wear slacks during the class which meets once a week for two hours.

"We are working on wooden purses for the classroom project," said Mrs. Mildred Gates, homemaking teacher during the regular school year. "The girls will decoupage them or paint them or do whatever they want."

The course will also involve home projects, Mrs. Gates said.

"The classroom instruction will last for only six weeks, but the course itself will last on into August. Each girl will have a home project which will involve home management, clothing, foods and family relations," she said.

The students will be making field trips to Amarillo during the course, Mrs. Gates said.

The course will have no final exam, she said.

"The girls' grades will be based mainly on their home projects," she said. "We will evaluate how they have carried out their projects and give them a grade according to our evaluation."

A summer homemaking student concentrates on finishing her wooden purse while other members of the class look on.

Conference To Vote On WTSU June 20

Faculty representatives of the Missouri Valley Conference meet in Dallas on Saturday, June 20, and one of the main items on the agenda is West Texas State University.

The representatives will vote on WTSU's application for Conference membership. The Conference had decided during its spring meeting at Des Moines, Iowa, to expand and West Texas is the first school to be considered.

The meeting is slated for 11 a.m. in the Hilton Inn.

West Texas State officials will host a press conference following the Conference meeting.

Attending for WTSU will be Cloyce Box, chairman of the Board of Regents; Dr. James P. Cornette, president of the University; Joe Kerbel in dual role as director of athletics and football coach and basketball coach Dennis Walling.

by all prisoners brought in by city officers.

Commissioner Jim Fletcher agreed with Mayor Bryan that the city should not be responsible for prisoners under jurisdiction of county courts.

"The city wouldn't be responsible for a DWI case even if the person were arrested by a city officer," said Fletcher noting that such a case would be outside jurisdiction of the city court.

"That's for you all to work out," said the sheriff.

"They want to pay for who they put in jail not the people our courts put in jail," Fletcher added.

Bryan noted that $3,118 in fines were levied by the county against people who were arrested by city officers last year.

"You get quite a bit of money from fines," said City Commissioner Kenneth Olson.

"Some of them laid it out in jail," said Sheriff Johnston declaring that this constituted an expense to the county rather than revenue.

Sheriff Johnston said a prisoner's first day in jail is the most expensive since he must be photographed, fingerprinted and records made of his arrest.

Olson asked if the fines and expense of handling city prisoners doesn't to some extent balance out.

"No I don't think so," replied County Commissioner Bill Butler. "I think you are getting a free ride on the jail."

County Judge Carrol Brown conceded that even if a city officer makes an arrest in a case where the municipal court does not have jursidiction it is not a city case.

"We need to go back and study these cases to see how many there were in which the city had jurisdiction," he stated.

The two governing bodies agreed that cost of operating the jail should be shared on a prisoner day basis with about the only problem remaining to determine for what prisoners the city will be responsible.

The county says cost of operating the county's radio system last year was $20,668 or about 35 cents each for the 59,044 calls logged.

The records show that Canyon officers logged 26,468 of these calls for a pro-rata share of $9,263.80. The city pays $150 a month or $1,800 a year for communications facilities.

Mayor Bryan complained that the expense is figured for all calls logged while there is no charge made to West Texas State University security department, Department of Public Safety, ambulance and other agencies using the sheriff's department communications system.

The mayor also declared that if the city is going to be expected to pay a pro-rata share of the communications system then it should exercise some control over it.

The sheriff said that if the city wants to run the communications system and work out some method for the county to pay the city then it is all right with him.

"If they want to dispatch us then it suits me," he said.

Commissioner Olson said that if the city is going to be expected to pay a pro-rata share of the jail and communications expense then the county should pay on the same basis for fire protection for rural residents.

"We lost money on every fire call," Olson declared.

Amarillo City Manager John Stiff dispatched a letter to Randall County Commissioners Court recently setting cost of answering a rural fire call at $585. The county pays the cities of Canyon, Amarillo and Happy $100 per call. Canyon Fire Department records reflect that the Canyon department answered 69 calls last year.

At the rate set by Stiff cost to the county would have been $40,365. The county actually paid $6,900 for this fire service.

Judge Brown stated emphatically that the county has no intention of paying $585 to the city of Amarillo for rural fire calls.

Mayor Bryan said the city commission is aware that the city is not paying its share for communications and jail facilities and only seeks to be charged for the services on an equitable basis.

She said, "Unless there is more, we're fine. We have some dryland planting to do, but we will have to wait until we get a break in the harvesting."

Antone Handing of Umbarger reported 1.70 inches of rain and a sprinkle of hail. No hail damage was caused, but row crops were washed under. Handing says, "We don't know if they will make it through or not, the ground is pretty crusty on top."

According to Handing, combining will probably begin late this week because the grain is still green.

An inch and a half of moisture fell Sunday at the Walter Graham place south of Canyon with .3 reported for Saturday. In the past three-week period, they have received a total of 3.6 inches.

that facilities such as a stadium, gym, dormitory or activity building must be paid for from funds they generate. No state appropriation is available for such construction.

Henson compared the school's budget of $558,951 in 1946 to next year's budget of $10,576,000 and projected a 5.16 percent increase in enrollment through the summer, fall and spring semesters.

"Maybe I'm conservative," he said. He predicted an enrollment of more than 10,000 in 1973 and a full-time student population of 15,000 by 1980.

cipation would cost the county about $1,000 a month. He said it is much less expensive to follow the arrangement now followed by the county in purchasing groceries for indigent.

To receive county assistance the recipient must take a pauper's oath under present county rules.

Cason said there are some 640 persons on public assistance in Randall County and therefore entitled to surplus commodities.

He said he had received many inquiries about commodities at his Amarillo office but when pinned down by Judge Brown was unable to cite a single instance of having received such an inquiry.

Commissioner Jim Fletcher said there undoubtedly are people in the county who need assistance but that he does not believe the plan submitted by the visiting team is the most efficient way to give such assistance.

Glosson said the warehouse will be established in Canyon in spite of the fact that Cason says the overwhelming majority of the people who will be receiving commodities live in Amarillo.

Alamo Boys Choir of San Antonio will appear in the Canyon High School Auditorium June 20 at 8 p.m. under the sponsorship of the Canyon Fine Arts Club.

representation with a Republican representing us in the House or Senate because then we don't have any Republican get-a-long in the state legislature. There are too few of them to get any thing done."

"Texas is a Democratic partied structure. The Republicans can't get anything done. They don't have anyone to work with. The whole state organization is opposed to it."

"Sherman will be the first Amarillo man elected to this office if he wins," said Bruce. "There is an unwritten rule that no man from Amarillo can win in the district."

Commenting on the outcome of the second primary, Abraham said, "I'm pleased to have Max as an opponent. He's a very personable young man."

Abraham stated that he would begin active campaigning about Labor Day. "In the meantime I will be traveling over the Panhandle continuing to meet people and getting my organization lined up.

In discussing his campaign, Abraham said, "I don't plan to deal in personalities in my campaign. I intend to stress my broad experience. We have a team of one senator and five representatives representing the Panhandle in the Legislature. Two representatives are freshman going back for their second terms and three will be newcomers. We need someone to head this team up that has experience and knows everyone in Austin in both houses, departments heads, etc."

"It is quite obvious that the conservatives in the Senate will be outnumbered and it is extremely essential to have a proven conservative who will hang tight when the going gets rough."

In rebuttal to the Democratic contention of non-representation, Abraham said, "A Republican is more effective than a Democrat in that he is not bound to do as the party powers tell him to do."

"The people in the Panhandle have long since learned to vote for the man, not the party. A lot of my strongest supporters are staunch Democrats," Abraham said.

A jury made up of both men and women awarded Eula Alene $8,800 exemplary damages, $1,200 for an automobile and $250 for attorney's fees.

Randall County records show that Marvin Paul Metcalf was divorced from Rose Marie Metcalf (a third woman) in November of 1959. Rose Marie and Metcalf were married Feb. 16, 1953, according to court house records.

ness was charged with contempt of court, and a writ of confinement was placed into the hands of the sheriff for execution. The preacher was placed in county jail awaiting his decision to answer questions propounded by the court.

"The revival meeting continued at the church with the pastor, Rev. Simeon Shaw taking the place of the evangelist. He announced at the evening service that a prayer meeting would be held at the jail after the service and several scores of people went to the meeting. Songs were sung and prayers were offered."

(Mrs. Warwick says the group prayed to no avail for the walls of the jail to fall down.)

"This morning Dr. Starke was again brought into the justice court and asked regarding the affair.

"The proceedings of the court of inquiry are secret as is the work of the grand jury, and none of the questions and answers recorded in the court were available for publication this morning. The court officers state that the statement made this morning was satisfactory to the court and Dr. Starke was therefore released.

"Excitement prevailed in the city during yesterday and last night, and the people of Canyon regret the incident very much."

Chamber of Commerce judges met June 3 to tour the city and its facilities in order to award points.

Tours included the school facilities, the cemetery, the rodeo arena, Toles Memorial Park, the airplane landing strip, the Wheat Growers Feed Lot and the tail-water pits north of town.

Judges included LeRoy Tillery, Larry Milner, Keith Winter and Lloyd Danis.

Signs will be erected on the highway proclaiming Happy a Blue Ribbon City if the community is able to fulfill the requirements.

Alamo Boys Choir To Sing June 20 At CHS Auditorium

The Alamo Boys Choir of San Antonio, sometimes called "San Antonio's Singing Ambassadors," will appear in concert at Canyon High School Auditorium on June 20.

Curtain for the program, which is being sponsored by the Canyon Fine Arts Club, is 8 p.m.

In the past two years the group of 32 boys, ages 8-13 have sung 175 concerts on television, radio, and before convention civic clubs and churches. They made two tours of Mexico with appearances in Monterrey, Mexico City and Guadalajara.

On the concert stage they will sing classical and sacred selections, switching to colorful costumes for the operatic presentation of "My Uncle, the Bull Fighter." This music was especially composed for the Alamo Boys.

The program will conclude with presentation of fun, folk and show tunes.

Director of the choir is Melvin Isdale. His wife, Wilette Isdale, served as clinician for the 1969 Texas State Teachers Association District 16 Vocal Division meeting and used a number of Canyon children in her demonstration.

O'Neal, Kirkland Tops In Competition

Mary O'Neal of Panhandle and David Kirkland of Borger took top honors in showmanship at the annual Angus Field Day competition held Tuesday at the WTSU Livestock arena.

They will represent this area in regional competition at Lawton, Okla. July 9-10.

First place in the Junior Division of livestock judging went to Rod Hales of Canyon and winning team was the Deaf Smith 4-H club.

Winner in the women's adult division competition was Mrs. Clinton Williams Panhandle. Taking honors in the men's division was Justin McBride of Hereford.

Patricia Prestler of Borger reigned as queen for the day's activities.

Newly-elected officers of the West Texas Angus Association are Richmond Hales, president; Bill Bradley, vice-president; and Jerry Williams, secretary-treasurer.

High Plains Junior Association officers named include Rick Hales of Canyon, president; Mary O'Neal of Panhandle, vice-president; Carol Williams of Panhandle, secretary-treasurer; and Patricia Prestler of Borger, reporter.

Over 100 persons from Canyon, Panhandle, Hereford, Friona, Summerfield, Borger, Plainview, Lockney and Fort Worth were in attendance.
